George Platt Lynes, 1907-1955 - 2000 publication

George Platt Lynes was a brilliant craftsman of his time. His skill and passion for his subjects made him very successful in the 30's and 40's. But George Platt Lynes was also a myth-maker with a photographic obsession unpublicized until after his death. He had photographed male nudes that "art critics" declared transcending time and a place, glancing back to Greek mythology and athleticism and going forward to the modern, urban eroticism of Mapplethorpe and Bruce Weber. In this book - the whole range of his work is brought together for the first time--contrasting his public face with his expertise in the unappreciated field of the nude male body.
