A fascinating, charming biography of an extraordinary woman Misia Sert, a pianist of Polish descent who hosted an artistic salon in Paris. She was a patron and friend of numerous artists, for whom she regularly posed. Born in Poland to a family of gifted artists. Her greatest talent however was the gift of inspiring and bringing together others. She was painted and adored by major artists such as Renoir, Vuillard, Bonnard, Picasso, and Toulouse-Lautrec. She was a friend of writers such as Mallarme and Valery and later Proust, Cocteau, Colette and Claudel. She was a friend to Ravel, Stravinsky, and Debussy. It was she who brought Diaghilev and Stravinsky together. She inspired two characters in Marcel Proust's masterpiece "Remembrance of Things Past" and it was she who "discovered" Coco Chanel. her life story is truly fascinating, Married at 21, although later she lied about her age and claimed to have be only 15 years. Later her husband was to become the editor of La Revue blanche magazine. When Natanson was on the brink of bankruptcy, the newspaper magnate Alfred Edwards saved him, on condition that he surrender his wife to him. Misia began living with Alfred Edwards in 1903. Around that time she started hosting a literary-artistic salon in Paris. She acquired considerable influence in Parisian musical and artistic circles. Misia was a noted beauty who was painted many times. She was one of the models for Toulouse-Lautrec's poster for La Revue blanche in 1895, in which she is shown as a skater. A portrait of Misia by Renoir is now in the Tate Gallery.
